$22,000 FOR PAIR OF JERSEY CATTLE

Record Price is Made at a Sale Held in Pennsylvania.

On May 30 a sale of Jersey cattle was held at the farm of T. S. Cooper at Cooperstown, Pa. At this sale of 1911 John B. Haggin, of Lexington, Ky., bought the king of the herd, Noble of Oaklands, for $15,000, the record price for a Jersey bull, and an hour later paid another record price, securing Lady Viola, the queen of the herd, for $7,000 against short competition. This is said to be the highest price ever paid for a Jersey cow. Lady Viola is the mother of Noble of Oaklands, and the $22,000 paid for the pair exceeds by $6,000 any price heretofore paid for a brace of Jersey cattle.

All told Mr. Haggin bought twenty head of bulls, cows and heifers for $96,000. Bidders came from half the States in the Union. Texas ranchers, New England farmers, Kentucky breeders and Pennsylvania millionaires fought in terms of money to possess the blue-bloods.

The sale was a one-ring show; the millionaires and the Jerseys were the actors, and the thousands of visitors from Coopersburg and Lehigh county, were spectators.

Time was when the Coopersburg people waited for the Cooper sale to stock their herds. That was in the early days of the Cooper farms and before millionaires came with their thousands to bid and to carry away the prizes.

But now the Lehigh valley farmers look over the benches and gasp when bids go a-soaring. They gasped yesterday. One of these farmers heard the record price of $15,000 announced when Noble of Oaklands was sold under the hammer. He watched the keeper lead the prize out of the ring, and examined the rich color with a critic's eye.

"Fifteen thousand dollars?" he mused. "By crickey, there aint no such animal."

THE WELD THAT HELD

THE GREATEST IMPROVEMENT

In poultry fence construction ever known was made when electric welding was introduced. It rounded the sharp ends of the wire, thus removing the danger of injury to the fowls. This radical change over old methods was made by the Pittsburgh Steel Company and was incorporated into its new celebrated "Pittsburgh Perfect" fencing, for hogs, sheep, cattle, farm purposes and for lawns and poultry. This fencing is manufactured exclusively by them. Electric welding also placed wraps, clamps and ties in the waste wire class.

"Pittsburgh PERFECT" Poultry Fence

ELECTRICALLY WELDED

As well as all farm and lawn fences under this brand, are now being made from a special quality of open hearth wire, manufactured in the immense addition to our mill's recently built. It is now heavily galvanized, by an improved process. All stay wires are the same size as the main wire, and the superior of any poultry fence made. The quality of the open hearth wire, conceded superior to Bessemer steel, the galvanizing, applied by our special process, and the large wires, are all of vital importance in giving service and durability.

"Pittsburgh Perfect" Electrically Welded Fences are made in every height and weight for every use. Send upon getting only "Pittsburgh Perfect" fence.

POSTMASTERS

CONFIRMED

Sell's Selections For Bristol and Greenville Approved.

Bristol, Tenn., June 16.—News of the confirmation of Dr. A. J. Roller to be postmaster here and H. F. Shoun to be postmaster at Greenville, received here Friday, was highly gratifying to the friends of Congressman Sam R. Sells. Some uneasiness had existed on account of the announced opposition of Senator Bob Taylor, who was quoted as having said that he would strenuously oppose confirmation not of those appointments, but of the appointments of E. E. Hathaway at Elizabethton and James Byrd at Jonesboro, Tenn. As yet the confirmations in the last mentioned two instances have not been announced. There was an especially strenuous contest over the Elizabethton postoffice, where Crawford Alexander sought to hold the office until the date for the expiration of his term. It was for the reason that Senator Taylor felt that Mr. Alexander had not had a square deal that he entered his objection to the change at Elizabethton.

Friends of Congressman Sells say that the trend of events at Washington indicates that he is having things his own way as regards appointments for his own district.

FINEST HORSE

SEEN IN NEWPORT

Perhaps the finest horse ever seen in Newport is "Adair Boy," a handsome trotting-bred hackney, which is being driven by Col. John M. Jones. This horse was purchased for Col. Jones by Dr. M. Jacob of Knoxville at a price said to be the highest ever paid for a gelding in upper East Tennessee. Col. Jones hopes to sell him on the Eastern market for a ladies' runabout horse or a gentleman's park horse. It is stated that he has put a price of $1,000 on this horse. "Adair Boy" has won in all the leading horse shows of the South for the past two years, including the Appalachian show at Knoxville last Fall.

Mrs. Will Suggs Dead

Mrs. Will Suggs, wife of a well known employe of the Tannery died Sunday morning at 8 o'clock after a lingering illness, stomach trouble being pronounced as the direct cause of her death. Besides her husband she is survived by two little boys. She died at the home of her mother in Eastport. The following brothers and sisters survive: Misses Mollie and Gertie Ray, Mrs. James Cogdill and Mrs. Laura Cox of North Carolina and Ben and Bob Ray. The funeral was held Monday afternoon, interment being made at the new cemetery, with Rev. J. W. O'Hara, officiating.

RICHARD HAYNES

CALLED BY DEATH

After an illness of five months, death claimed Richard H. Haynes, one of the town's best known young men, early Friday morning. Although apparently in the best of health he was stricken with an abscess over his kidneys, and went to Knoxville and submitted to an operation. He returned home several weeks later and it was evident from the beginning that the operation had not proven a success and instead of gaining strength he gradually wasted away until he was so weak that he was able to offer but little resistance when the summons came to him Friday. His funeral was held Sunday afternoon and a large crowd of friends followed the remains to their last resting place.

The deceased was the sole support of a large family, having taken up the task several years ago, although he was but 21 years of age at the time of his demise. His father became blind some time ago, and this threw the whole burden on the young man who was the eldest son. Besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Haynes, the following brothers and sisters survive: Mrs. Hugh Bolch, Charley, Will, Julia, Bright, May, Lucy and Robert.

TAFT'S CELEBRAE

SILVER WEDDING

Washington, June 19.—The silver wedding celebration of the President and Mrs. Taft, the second that has been held in the white house, came to an end tonight with the reception on the white house lawn. Invitations had been sent to close to 12,000 persons and while the official court of those who shook hands with the President was not given out, it was estimated that at least 5,000 persons were present.

Never in the history of the nation, probably has such a function been held in Washington. The diplomatic corps, the United States supreme court, the senate and the house of representatives, the departments of the government, the men who are high in political affairs of the country, the army, the navy, and every walk of life almost were represented.
